BACKGROUND

The Dog Ridge Water Supply Corporation (Corporation) is located 60 miles north of Austin. The Corporation provides water services to a population of approximately 4,953 residents and approximately 1,668 residential connections.

PROJECT NEED AND DESCRIPTION

Based on the age of portions of its water distribution system, the Corporation presumes that some of its water lines are composed of lead or galvanized materials. The Corporation needs to inventory its system to identify the location of these water lines and to replace them.

The Corporation currently lists all its water service line connections as unknowns regarding the presence of lead. The Corporation plans on identifying its unknowns when funding is available and estimates it will take six months to complete. The Corporation is not requesting funding for the replacement of any potential lead service lines it may identify at this time.

Unemployment Rate (December, 2024)	Bell County: 4.3%	State: 3.7%
Working Capital Ratio	16.2	> 1.0

Key Risk Score Strengths

- A high working capital ratio provides the Corporation with ample resources to cover short-term liabilities and shows a strong liquidity position.
- The Corporation's days of cash on hand are above the benchmark, indicating that it has sufficient reserves for operating expenses.

Key Risk Score Concerns

- Based on the 2023 financial audit information, the Corporation will need to institute a $0.60 water rate increase in the first year of repayment and a maximum rate increase of $1.11 by 2040 to meet the required 1.0 coverage ratio.
- The Corporation's household cost factor exceeds the benchmark. However, this is primarily due to the low median household income of the area served by the Corporation. In addition, there is no indication of a problem collecting monthly bills, or a significant decline in collections. As of 2023, the Corporation was waiting for payment on 8.0 percent of its revenues, compared to 7.8 percent historically.

DEFINITIONS

Adopted refers to a water conservation plan that meets the minimum requirements of the water conservation plan rules and has been formally approved and adopted by the applicant's governing body.

Apparent losses are paper losses that occur when the water reaches a customer, but the volume is not accurately measured and/or recorded due to unauthorized consumption, customer meter inaccuracy, or billing system and collection data errors.

Approvable refers to a water conservation plan that substantially meets the minimum requirements of the water conservation plan rules but has not yet been adopted by the applicant's governing body.

Best Management Practices are voluntary efficiency measures that save a quantifiable amount of water, either directly or indirectly, and that can be implemented within a specific time frame.

GPCD means gallons per capita per day.

GCD means gallons per connection per day.

GMD means gallons per mile per day.

Infrastructure Leakage Index (ILI) is the current annual real loss divided by the unavoidable annual real loss (theoretical minimum real loss) and only applies to utilities with more than 3,000 connections and a connection density of more than 16 connections per mile. The ILI is recommended to be less than 3 if water resources are greatly limited and difficult to develop, between 3 and 5 if water resources are adequate to meet long-term needs but water conservation is included in long-term water planning, and between 5 and 8 if water resources are plentiful, reliable, and easily extracted. The ILI is recommended as a bench marking tool, but until there is increased data validity of the variables used in the calculation, the ILI should be viewed with care.

NA means not applicable.

Real losses are the physical losses, largely leakage, from the infrastructure: mains, valves, and storage tank overflows. Real loss constitutes background leakage (unreported and difficult to detect), unreported leakage (leaks that do not surface but could be detected), and reported leakage (leaks that often surface and those that are detected by the utility through leak detection).

Residential GPCD is the amount of residential water use (single and multi-family customer use) divided by the residential population divided by 365.

Total GPCD is the amount of total system input volume divided by the retail population divided by 365.

Total water loss is the sum of the apparent and real water losses.

Water loss is the difference between the input volume and the authorized consumption within a water system. Water Loss consists of real losses and apparent losses.

Water Loss GPCD is the amount of water loss divided by the retail population divided by 365.

Water Loss per Connection per Day Calculated as the water loss volume divided by the number service connections divided by 365. This indicator allows for reliable performance tracking in the water utility's efforts to reduce water losses. It replaces water loss percentage.

Water Loss Thresholds are levels of real and apparent water loss determined by the connection density of a retail public utility, at or above which a utility receiving financial assistance from the Texas Water Development Board must use a portion of that financial assistance to mitigate the utility's system water loss.

Wholesale Adjusted represents that some utilities provide large volumes of wholesale water to other providers that travel through the general distribution system, so a calculation has been established to adjust for that volume of wholesale water. These adjustments are only applicable for use in determining whether a utility meets or exceeds water loss thresholds in review of their application for financial assistance. These adjustments should not be used for performance tracking or benchmarking.
