Subject: DO NOT BUILD on preserve land; promote water CONSERVATION

Dear Members of the Texas Water Development Board,

I am writing to register my concerns about the Draft 2007 State Water Plan with the Texas Water Development Board.

Cortana is a bad site. Bull Creek is a WORSE choice. Both choices are bad. We need to aggressively promote CONSERVATION, along with possibly expanding an existing plant.

Conservation tends to get the short shrift in discussion about development, but we need to be realistic about this land we occupy. We can all get our water needs met without building major infrastructure on natural preserve lands that are supposed to be set aside in perpetuity. Please rethink this set of choices, and emphasize conservation plus expansion of existing infrastructure.

Sincerely,

Jennifer L Nazak 2728 S. Congress, #17 Austin TX 78704
